Dear Chairman Wheeler,

As the Founder for Club Automation, I am writing you to share my concerns about maintaining a competitive marketplace in the telecommunications industry.

My company relies on the ability to choose from a large variety of quality Telecommunications carriers to deliver a variety of voice and Internet services so we can best serve our customers. Thus far we have selected TDS Metrocom (TDS) as our preferred provider that delivers not only reliable technology, but also at the level of quality and flexibility we require. In addition, TDS stays in touch with us to ensure they are satisfying our business needs. Without these important factors our business cannot remain successful.

With IP-based communications becoming more the norm, having choice becomes even more important. If robust competition is restricted in the marketplace, my ability to serve my own customers could be harmed by the lack of individualized solutions and value based pricing such as what TDS provides us today.

In my view, The FCC must focus its efforts on maintaining a healthy level of competition in the Telecommunications industry as the network technology moves to IP.

If we are limited to a choice between only one or two providers, I am very concerned we will not be able to afford or use the services we need due to the ability of the remaining carriers to extract higher prices for limited products.

Sincerely,

Max Longin
